

What is AUXCOMM?

An Introduction

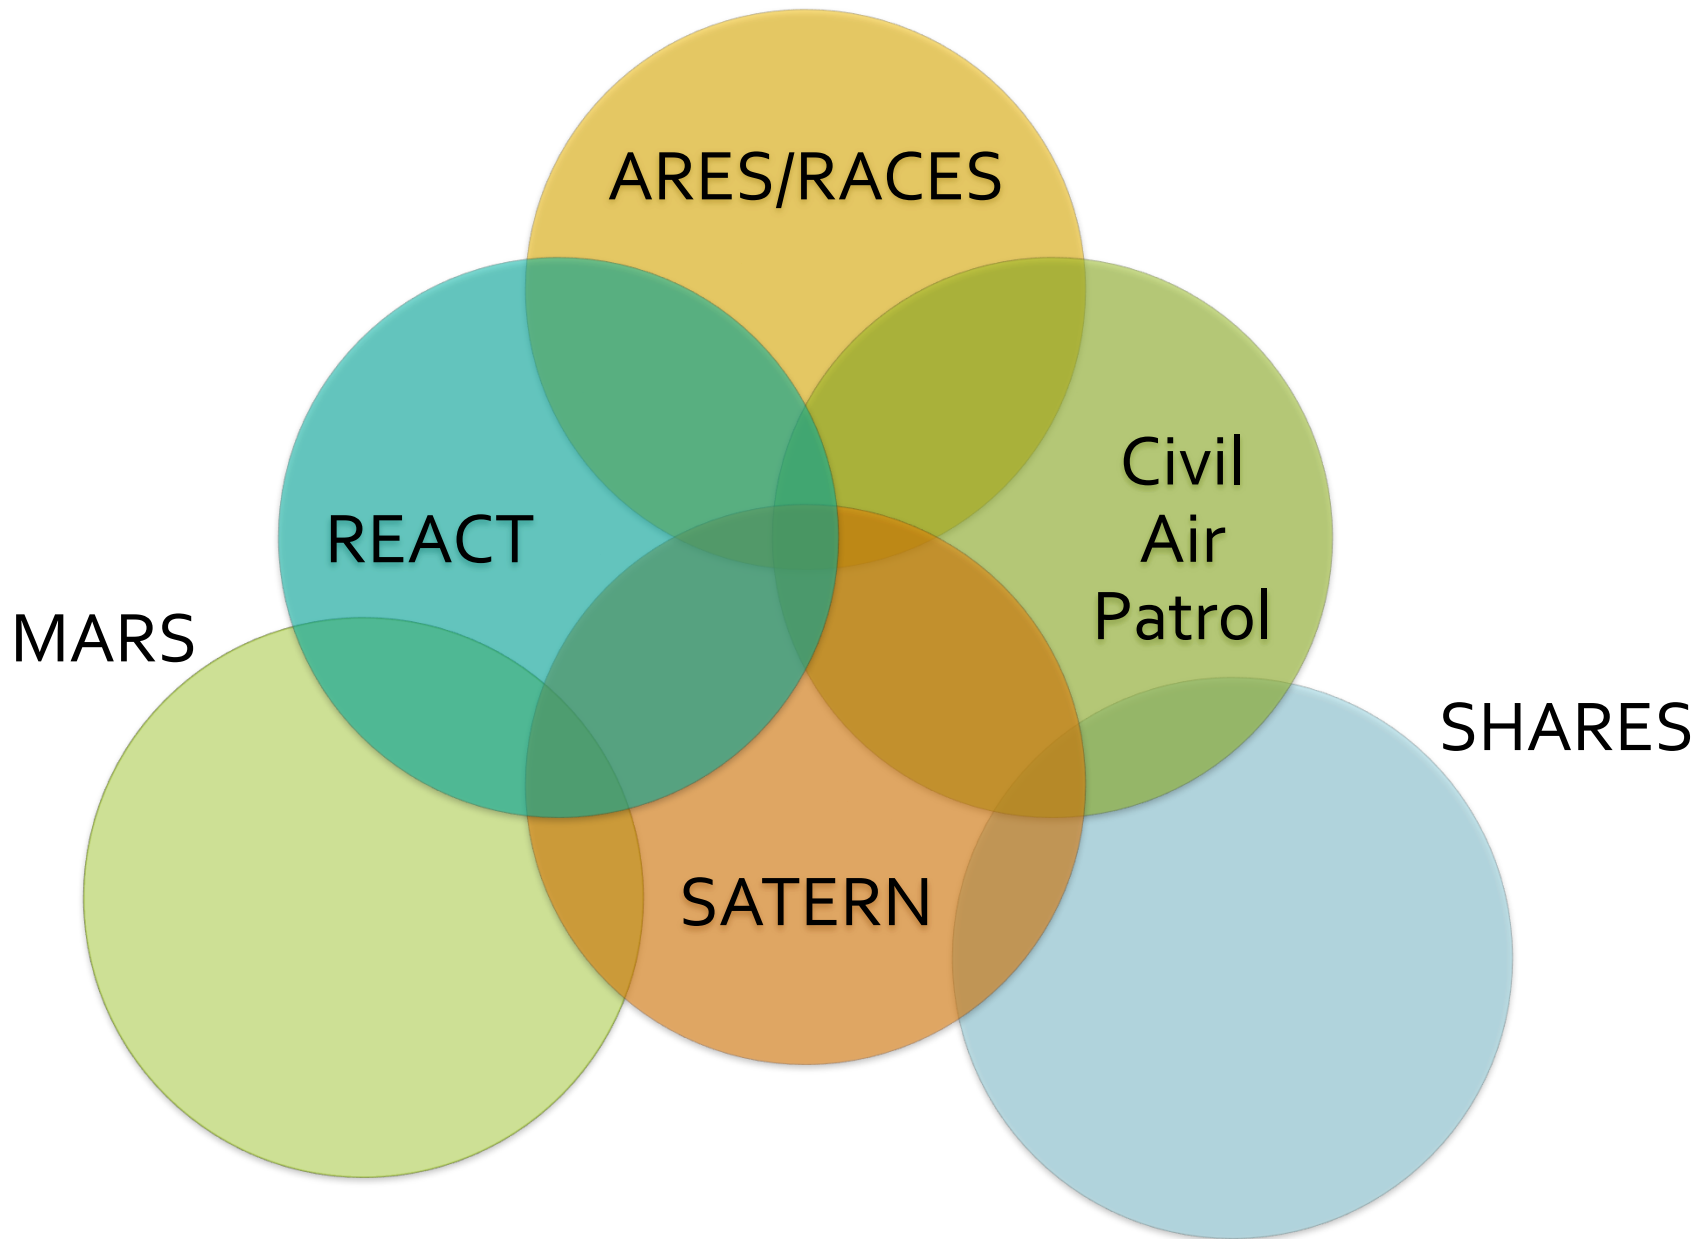

What is Auxiliary Communications (AUXCOMM)?

“Auxiliary Communications, or 'AUXCOMM', refers to organizations and personnel which provide various types of emergency communications support to emergency management, public safety, and other government agencies. AUXCOMM services are typically voluntary, and are commonly provided by amateur radio communicators, but may also include other volunteer organizations which have established relationships with the government organizations they support.”

- Auxiliary Communications Field Operation Guide (AUXFOG)

Who is AUXCOMM?

Training

Minimum requirements for working with a served agency
Have information that can be valuable when called upon to assist

Task Book Completion

Demonstrated competencies
Qualified to serve as AUXC under local Emergency Management

State Recognition

Registered in statewide database
Available to be deployed outside the county

Three Levels of AUXC Recognition

